B R I G H T T V

Viewership Analytics Dashboard

Q1 2016 | South Africa

Prepared by: Tshegofatso L. Senona

Role: Data Analyst

Executive Summary

9,515	9.1 min	1,559	88%
Total Views	Avg Viewing Duration	Top Channel	Male Viewership
Q1 2016	Per session	SuperSport Live Events	Of total views

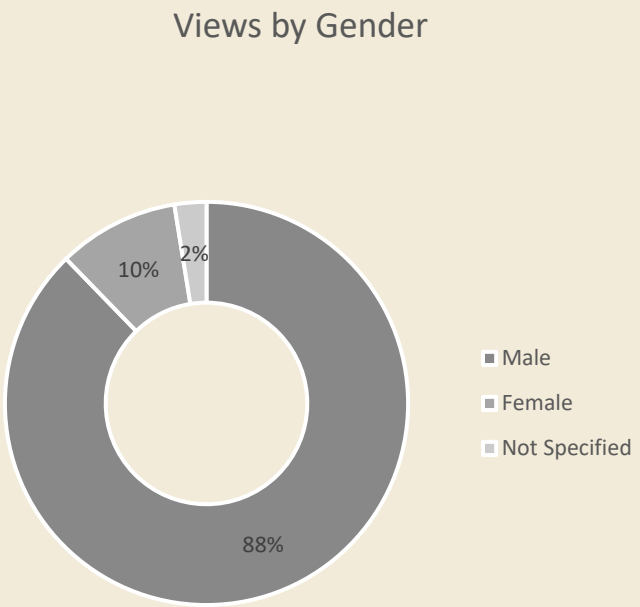
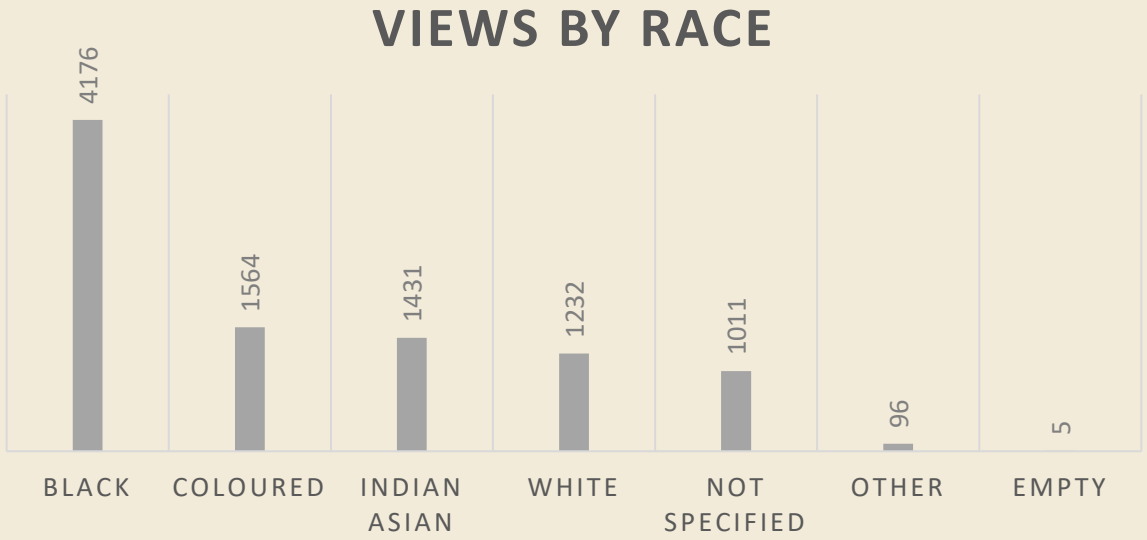
Key Findings

- Viewership grew 115% from January to March, driven by ICC Cricket World Cup 2011 coverage.
- Male viewers dominate at 88% of total views — a significant gender skew requiring strategic attention.
- Gauteng accounts for 36.5% of all views but ranks 6th in average viewing duration.
- ICC Cricket viewers are the most loyal — highest average duration at 18.4 minutes per session.
- Early Afternoon (12pm–5pm) is the peak viewing window with 3,560 views — 37% of all traffic.

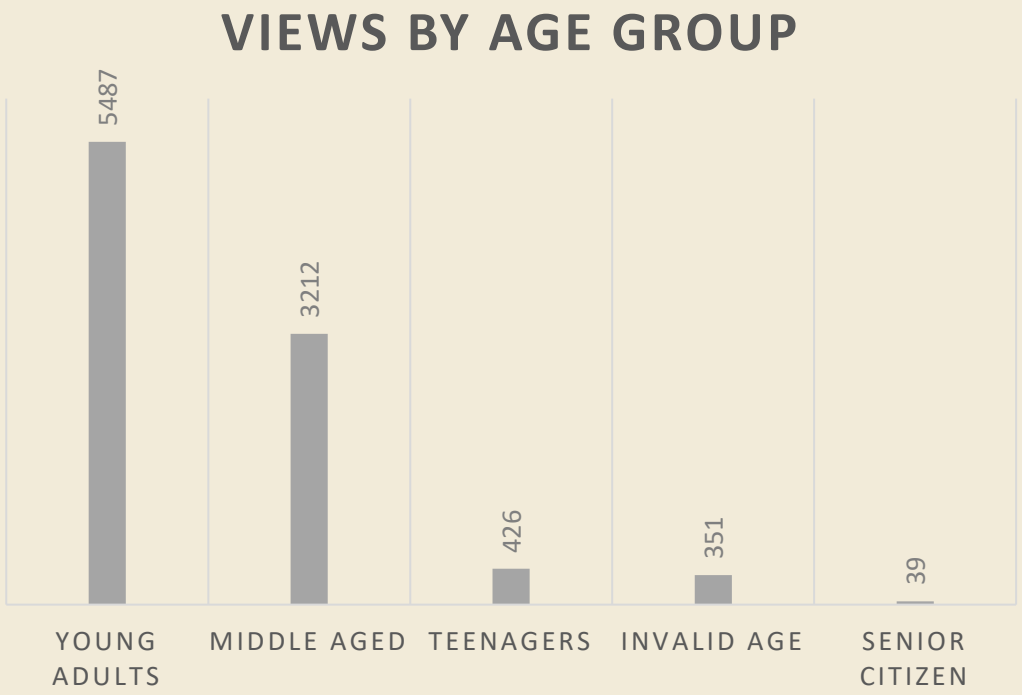
WHO Is Watching? | Demographic Breakdown





Insight: Male viewers dominate at 88% of total views. Black South Africans represent 43.9% of viewership — the largest racial group. Indian Asian viewers are notably overrepresented at 15% despite being ~2.5% of SA's population.

WHO Is Watching? | Age Group Analysis



57.7%

Young Adults

Largest age segment

33.8%

Middle Aged

Second largest

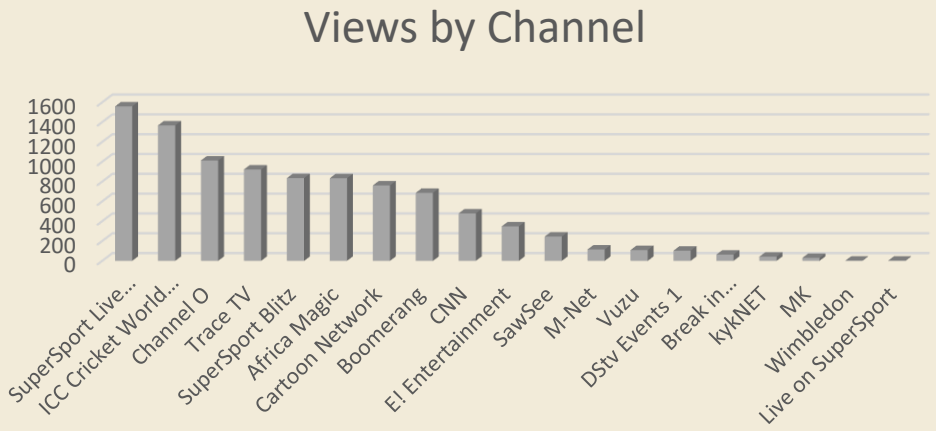
0.4%

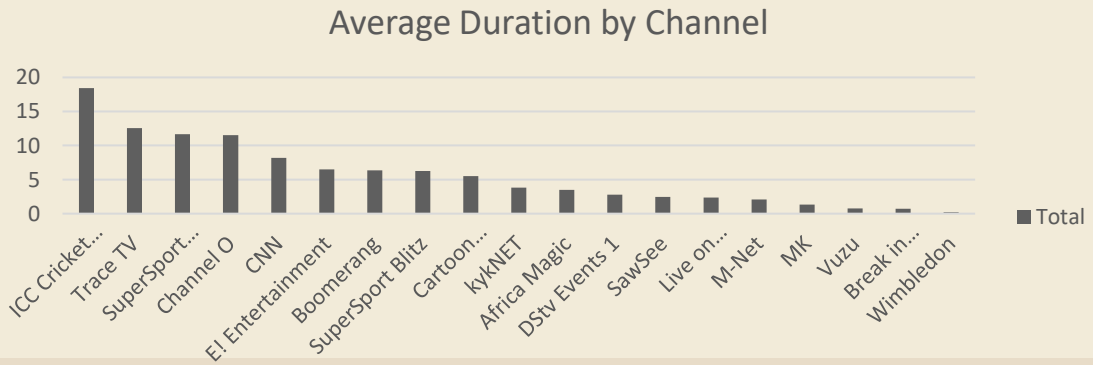
Senior Citizens

Least represented

Insight: Young Adults and Middle Aged viewers make up 91.5% of all views — content strategy should heavily target the 20–64 age bracket.

WHAT Is Being Watched? | Top Channels





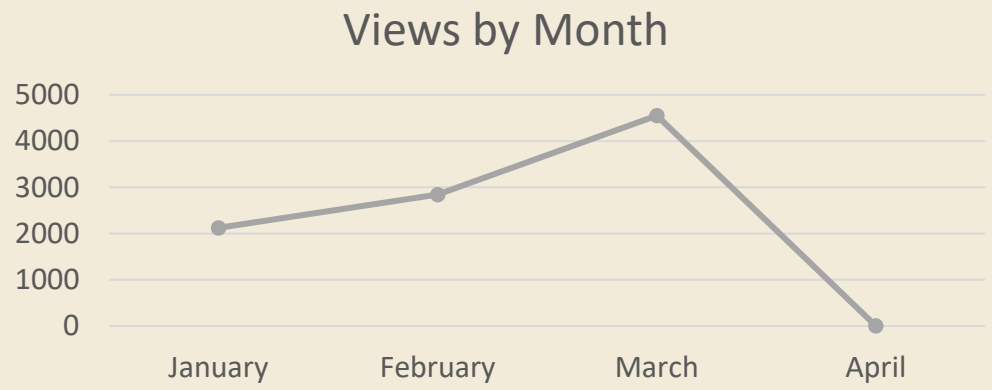
Volume vs Loyalty

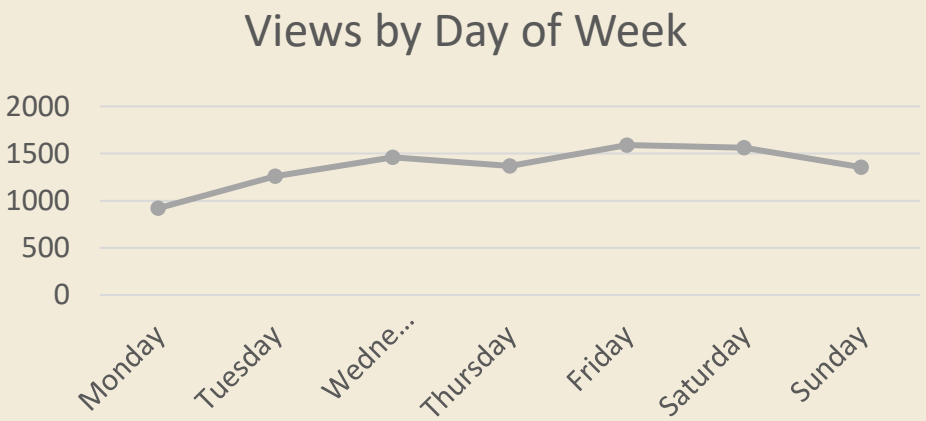
SuperSport Live Events leads total views at 1,559 but ICC Cricket delivers the most loyal viewers — 18.4 min average duration.

Quality beats quantity.

Trace TV ranks 2nd in avg duration (12.6 min) despite being 4th in total views — another underrated loyalty channel.

WHEN Are They Watching? | Monthly & Daily Patterns





115%

Growth Jan→Mar

Driven by ICC Cricket

Fri

Peak Day

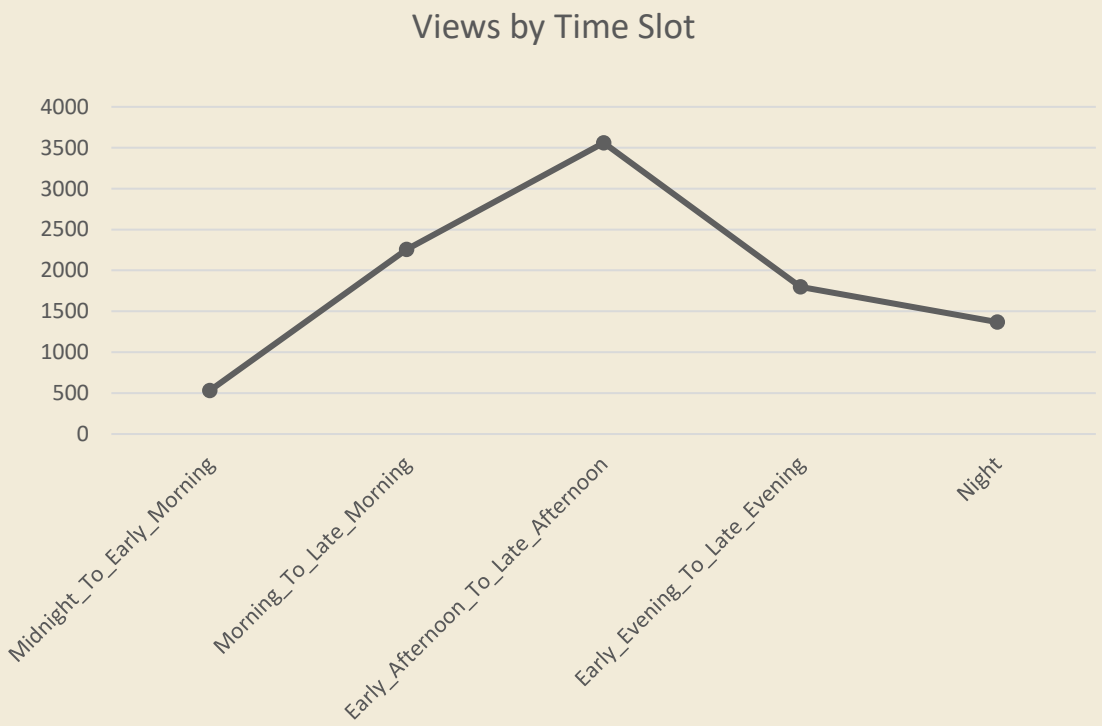
1,590 views on Fridays

Mon

Lowest Day

Only 921 views

WHEN Are They Watching? | Time of Day Analysis



37%

Early Afternoon

Peak slot — 3,560 views

24%

Morning

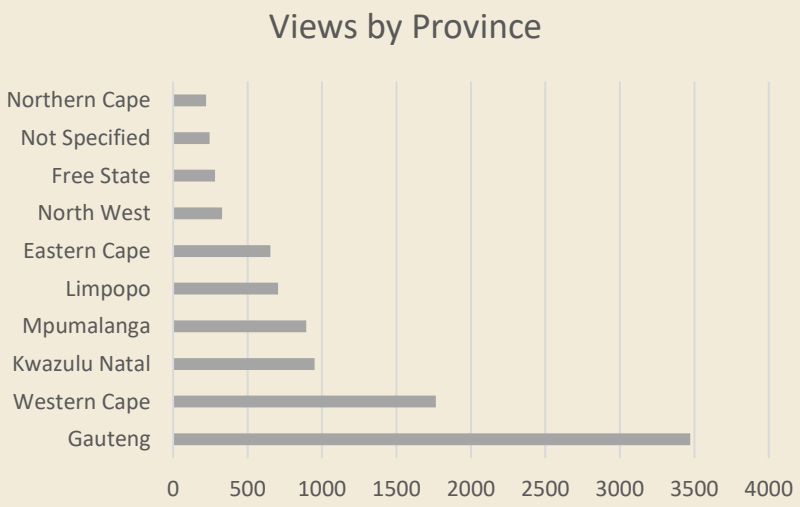
Second highest — 2,257 views

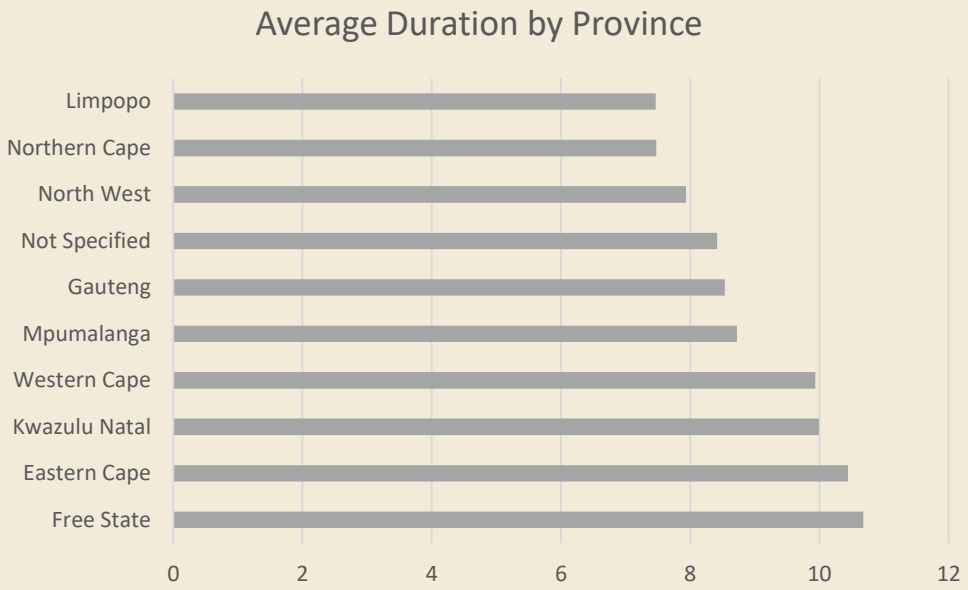
6%

Midnight

Lowest traffic slot

WHERE Are They Watching? | Provincial Breakdown





Volume vs Engagement Paradox: Gauteng dominates with 36.5% of views but ranks 6th in avg duration (8.5 min). Free State viewers watch the longest at 10.7 min despite having only 281 total views. High volume does not equal high engagement.

HOW LONG? | Viewership Engagement Funnel

61.1% — Casual Commitment
1 min – 1 hour · 5,816 views

28.9% — Clicked & Not Committed
3 sec – 1 min · 2,752 views

6.6% — Clicked and Left
0–2 seconds · 631 views

3.3% — Valid Commitment
1–4 hours · 313 views

0.03% — Solid Commitment
>4 hours · only 3 views

Key Insights Summary

Sports drives everything

SuperSport Live Events (1,559) and ICC Cricket (1,367) together account for 31% of all views. The March spike of 4,551 views was fuelled by ICC Cricket coverage.

Gender skew is extreme

88% of viewers are male. Female viewership (924) is critically low. BrightTV's content mix appears to be almost entirely sports-centric, excluding female audiences.

Volume ≠ Engagement

Gauteng has the most views but ranks 6th in duration. ICC Cricket ranks 2nd in volume but 1st in loyalty. Raw views alone can be misleading.

Most viewers are casual

61.1% of viewers fall under Casual Commitment. Only 3 viewers achieved Solid Commitment (4+ hours), signalling low binge-worthy content.

Afternoon is prime time

37% of all views happen between 12pm and 5pm. Friday and Saturday are peak days. Monday records the lowest viewership at just 921 views.

Indian Asian over-index

Indian Asian viewers represent 15% of viewership despite being only ~2.5% of SA's population — a uniquely engaged demographic worth targeting.

Recommendations

R1

Diversify content beyond sports

With 88% male viewership and sports dominating the top channels, BrightTV risks alienating female audiences. Invest in lifestyle, drama, and reality programming to grow female viewership.

R2

Target afternoon slots for premium ads

Early Afternoon (12pm–5pm) accounts for 37% of all views. Premium advertising slots and high-value content releases should be scheduled during this window.

R3

Develop Free State & Eastern Cape audiences

These provinces show the highest avg viewing duration (10.7 and 10.4 min) but low total views. Targeted regional marketing could unlock a highly engaged but under-reached audience.

R4

Create binge-worthy content

Only 3 viewers achieved Solid Commitment (4+ hrs). Invest in serialised content and multi-episode formats to increase deep engagement and repeat viewership.

R5

Leverage the Indian Asian audience

Indian Asian viewers are over-indexed at 15% of viewership. Create targeted content and partnerships that speak to this community to deepen loyalty.

Thank You

Questions & Discussion

Tshegofatso L. Senona

Data Analyst

github.com/tshego-analyst | linkedin.com/in/tshegofatso-l-senona-946a69237